

INTRODUCTION:

HazMick is one of the hottest concepts in the Auto trading industry in 2020. It is generally popularly understood as decentralized finance, that is, the financial system built on the distributed network,

HazMick as a company was founded by Wales & Well Established Companies and Undisclosed/uncataloged group of system developers who created/generated a software robot which its ability is to call positons or trades with zero Emotional influence, given the given a set of well defined instructions (indicators).

The ideal ideal of Hazmick is completely based on carefully researched set of instructions and set up, Instructed/given to an automated system(bot) which can is basically capable of call/entering both spot and futures on the decentralized Ecosystem, it does not need to be interfered by off-chain information accuracy, validity and other problems temporarily. Therefore, it has become a scene of rapid development of blockchain application, currently involving decentralized lending, decentralized transactions, stablecoin and many other fields. So far, Hazmicks' total system stability value is always maintained by it's developers.

In the second half of 2020, HazMick began to exert its strength in various fields, especially in Cardano coin(ADA) decentralized network and its upcoming project. As early as a year ago, there were a lot of Bot related projects, but what really made HazMick a hot spot given it's magnificent result established form consistent 100% accuracy in determining the price action/movement of the Cardano coin.

Despite the sharp decline in the market over the past half month, there are still many benefits to many project. Those who got into automated trading bot, knew the rules and had enough money, made a lot of money. In addition, the new power in the industry, taking the automated trading system of computing power as the initiative, has also helped the expansion the concept of HazMick community.

At present, HazMick, as the financial system of the cryptocurrency market, is to some extent the standard of the traditional financial system.

Although HazMick is only popular among a very small part of the cryptocurrency user group due to the difficulties encountered during the early period of development and series of testing of its concepts in 2019 - 2020, the interaction of the underlying public chain, the single collaterable asset and the complicated operation of the product. Now There are no difficulties in its development. Based on the understanding of HazMick values and the goal of solving the industry pain point the Company Foundation created "HazMick".

Hazmick is a new converged Of bot application based on a Decentralized financial system that can mimick and track coins to leverage the future and spot trend in the market, As an overseas star project, we always give priority to fund security and user experience, and build efficient and convenient platform experience to bring more optimized experience to different communities and users. At the same time, Hazmick, as the first model ecology of Its kind, is driven by the community, and the fair and fair issuance of several services, without any team allocation, no private placement, to achieve 100% accuracy in calling positions of future and spot trading of the decentralized financial market!

This white paper is written based on the efficiency of of the project and services tobe delivered on signing up for membership incentives guiding HazMick, and provides efficient technical support for ecological development by building the basic public understanding of HazMick. In addition, HazMick development model, technology architecture, governance and other in-depth interpretation will be provided, so that users, partners and investors can better understand its goal and the core values of HazMick future services.

This Company is built on the basis of Trading robots which are able to mick Coins data (ADA,TRX) information based on news and historical data giving precise signals/prediction basic fundamentals and data finance.

It not only has complete business logic and application scenarios, but also has very mature practical services. Both the founder, the development team and the operation team clearly realize that, Changing the entire crypto market is a long and arduous process, but we will continue to work hard to achieve more goals

Background of the project

Hariri.

It used to be the Internet that made headlines in the digital economy. It accelerated the pace of human civilization progress, opened a new era; It has penetrated into all aspects of social production and life, profoundly changing the operation mode of human society. Today, a new round of technological and industrial revolution is in its infancy, and innovation has become the primary driving force for development. Since the birth of Bitcoin in 2009, blockchain technology has become the most important application achievement, which quickly attracted the attention of financial enterprises such as

It is found that the application of blockchain technology on the basis of the Internet can build a more secure and stable enterprise ecological environment for mutual assistance and sharing. Subsequently, the financial industry, Internet enterprises, IT enterprises, are joining in the exploration of crypto technology and application promotion work. Since 2017, the market for blockchain as the underlying technology and various derivative digital assets has experienced explosive development. With more than 3,500 tradable digital asset classes and an economy worth more than $1 trillion and still growing exponentially, the market has huge potential. Financial services is the first application of blockchain technology, especially in the field of payments.

The application of blockchain technology can solve the pain points in payment, asset management, securities and other fields. In the field of payment, for example, the cost of account checking, settlement and settlement among financial institutions, especially cross-border financial institutions, is high and involves many manual processes, which not only leads to high costs for the client and the back-end business of financial institutions, but also makes it difficult to carry out the small payment business.

Why capitalizing on Cardano (ADA):

With the news surrounding Cardano coin (ADA), the moon prospect committed to the coin and the policy guiding the trajectory of the this coin has made the study and application of of the idea of Mick robots created and funded by Hariri with the name HazMicK.
